The Supreme Welcome

People with intellectual disabilities, usually incapable of abstract thought, are often more able to welcome the presence of others. Less competitive, they are better at creating communion. This hidden capacity makes them more open to welcoming the presence of the God of love.

What's New?!

- On Friday Colleen, Audrey, Victoria and Renée participated in the Relay for Life. Even though it was cold and rainy they all said they had a great time. Real Troopers!
- On Saturday Colleen, Audrey, Jenn and Inke improved their art skills at Living through the Arts at Cana. The clay pieces look even more fantastic, now that they're painted!

- On Sunday Mandee had the spotlight but the rest of us had fun too at her baby shower! We enjoyed the fantastic food and the games and some of us even won prizes! Best wishes again to Mandee and her little peanut Mason!
- Monday night Renée came back from her holidays. She had a nice time in Timmins with her sister and her little nephew and enjoyed a couple of days away in Sudbury.

Trudy Boyd has been enjoying retirement! As you can see from the photo below she just loves having the extra time to spend with her Grandson Dexter!

Relay for Life

Thanks to everyone who showed up on Friday June 4th to the Relay for Life. Although it was rainy we had a great time. A special thanks to Trish and Shari who organized the event! It was a huge success for a great cause. Next year we'll have to put a special order in for Paulette to pray for sunshine!

Balloons were released in honor of the survivors
