What's happening?

Emmaus:

This week started on a high note as the spring cleaning project began to reach its final stretch. Upon the roof of Emmaus House, Nathan was busy clearing the gutters, while below Chris and Alain had supervised and built a new storage container. Tim mowed the lawn and Lynn used her inner handyman skills to help take apart a broken swing set.

On Sunday, we were able to enjoy Colleen's 50th birthday at Cana. It was very heartwarming to see just how cheerful and appreciative Colleen was on her birthday. Thank-you to Galilee for being such a great host, and thank-you to Eden for making the world's best cupcakes!

On the Cortina cruise, which was absolutely a wonderful event, we had a chance to show off some of our gifts. Lynn showed her gift of dancing, which took most of us by surprise just how good she is. Paulette has the gift of endurance, as she shook her booty from the start till end! Roma also very much enjoyed the cruise and had danced with Deborah several times. Everyone who went greatly enjoyed the pizza boat.

On Wednesday, Roma, Tim and Deborah were invited to Victoria's birthday party up at Galilee. Tim was on his best behavior being very happy to be a part of her special day. Roma held her tongue and refrained from calling Victoria any names (hahaha).

Later this week, Alain will be going to his father's for the weekend. He greatly looks forward for spending time with his father and Alain hopes that a belated father's day gift is better than no gift at all.

Galilee:

Galilee had a great time celebrating Colleen's birthday earlier this week. Colleen got to celebrate her birthday 3 times: once at Cana, at the house and at day program. She is a very luck girl.

We also celebrated Victoria's birthday. We enjoyed a dinner of Caesar salad and meatball subs. She invited Tim, Roma and Deborah over for her party. As always the party ended with Roma giving Victoria the bumps.

Tasha had been very busy these last couple of days. She had been cleaning up and packing up her apartment as gets ready to move.

Maureen and Audrey have been baking, gardening and spending quality time together since 2007!
